RAISING HEALTHY FAMILIES

“We all come from families...A family can be as temporary as a few weeks, as permanent as forever. We become part of a family by birth, adoption, marriage, or from a desire for mutual support.

“As family members, we nurture, protect, and influence each other. Families are dynamic and are cultures unto themselves, with different values and unique ways of realizing dreams. Together, our families become the source of our rich cultural heritage and spiritual diversity.

“Each family has strengths and qualities that flow from individual members, and from the family as a unit. Our families create neighborhoods, communities, states, and nations.”

(Developed and adopted by the Young Children's Continuum of the New Mexico State Legislature, June 20, 1990)

This description of the family, originally penned by FamilyVoices' first Executive Director, Polly Arango, describes the diversity and strength of today's families. Raising healthy families today can be a challenge. There are many places to find resources--but where to start?

INTRODUCING THE BRIGHT FUTURES FAMILY NETWORK!

Last fall FamilyVoices and the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) again brought together the Bright Futures Family Network (BFFN), at the AAP Headquarters in Elk Grove, Illinois. These family organizations have different focuses and purposes, but all share the mission of providing support and encouragement to families. Improving health and wellness is a common goal across the organizations.

The BFFN is advancing health and wellness for families from the perspective of diversity and a holistic approach to health, connecting actions to the 10 Health Promotion Themes of the AAP's Bright Futures Guidelines for the Health Supervision of Infants, Children, and Adolescents (3rd ed.):

- Family Support,
- Child Development
- Mental Health
- Healthy Weight
- Healthy Nutrition
- Physical Activity
- Oral Health
- Healthy Sexual Development
- Safety and Injury Prevention
- Community Relationships and Resources

In this issue of Bright Futures Family Matters, we'll introduce you to the BFFN members. Check them out!

Network!

“More than ever before, there is a global understanding that long-term social, economic, and environmental development would be impossible without healthy families, communities, and countries.”
